MISS KATHERINE HOEY BRIDE OF SOUTHERN MERCHANT

Song Service by Paulist Chorists
Followed Nuptial Mass
To-Day.

Miss Katherine Agnes Hoey, daughter of Mrs. John Hoey of No. 65 Central Park West, was married this morning to Joseph Amadeo Bollin, a prominent merchant of Clarksville, Tenn. The ceremony was performed at the Church of St. Paul the Apostle, 59th Street and Columbus Avenue, by a brother of the bride, the Rev. Peter E. Hoey, C. S. P., formerly Chaplain of the 107th Infantry, 27th Division, U. S. A.

Miss Jane M. Hoey was her sister's bridesmaid and Joseph Abbott of Washington was best man. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, James J. Hoey, formerly Deputy State Superintendent of Insurance and a member of the Legislature for six years.

During the nuptial mass, which immediately followed the marriage ceremony, the famous Paulist Chorists sang many beautiful selections. Later a wedding breakfast was served at the Hotel Plaza.

A Summons? Pooh! Nothing In Idle David's Young Life, But He'll Sure Get One Now

Margaret and the Landlady Saw to That and When Murphy Finds Him He'll Lose That Ice-pick and the Dynamite—David Sees Everything, Most, but the Summons Is Because He Does Nothing.

DAVID MORRIS won the weekly prize offered at Essex Market Court for the seven-day record. According to Mrs. Margaret Hanley who came before Judge Sweetser, dynamite, rough words and ice-picks seemed to be David's campaign specialties.

"He is separated from his wife," said Margaret, who came with the landlady. "But he came back," added the latter. "And now he is running the house." "You mean he is running his family?" inquired His Honor. "I should say he was. And he is running the whole house, besides the family."

"He beats his wife," declared the landlady. "And says he is going to blow up the house. He has lots of dynamite, he says."

It was obvious that no one knew anything good of David. "Give her a summons," ordered His Honor. "He has already had two," averred Margaret. "And each time he gets them he says summonses are nothing in his young life."

TENOR WEDS CUBAN BEAUTY.

Ferrari-Fontana, Recently Divorced, Is 40 and Single. Miss Marie Esther Teller, niece of the Cuban Minister to the United States, was married in Newark, N. J., to-day to Edoardo Ferrari-Fontana, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera. Police Justice Frank A. Hostetter officiated at the ceremony. Miss Teller, barely twenty-one, is a Cuban beauty and gave her address at No. 780 Riverside Drive. The bridegroom is forty.

Ferrari-Fontana was divorced by Mrs. Margaret Matenauer, the contract, less than four months ago and could not have married again legally in New York State at this time.

"He won't get him," said Margaret, skeptically. "He is a regular Sherlock Holmes," asserted Court Officer Creedon. "We need a dozen Sherlock Holmeses to get him," said Margaret. Mr. Murphy then sallied forth, promising to bring in all the evidence, including dynamite, ice-picks and David.

"Hymie is a bad boy," asserted Mrs. Annie Moonshine when she came before Judge Sweetser in old Essex Market.

"What do you want to do about him?" asked His Honor. "I want a summons. They always work," declared Annie. "Tell me just what the trouble is with Hymie."

"Your Honor. Mr. Judge, he is something terrible."

"Please be more explicit."

"Tell the real dope," translated a court attendant. "What does he do?" "He doesn't do anything."

"Why do you want a summons then?" "Because he doesn't do anything. That is the trouble with Hymie."

"You mean he won't work?" "That's the dope," Mr. Judge. Your Honor.

Annie was awarded a summons. "And then he hangs around and raises the dickens. He is always doing something, but he doesn't do anything at all."

"You get your summons," repeated His Honor. "Will Hymie get pinched?" asked the mother.

"In one way yes, in another no," explained Jerry Creedon. "It will make him work all right."

Thus clarified, Annie went home with the antidote for idleness.

RETURN OF RAILROADS URGED BY BUSINESS MEN

Chambers of Commerce Want Private Ownership and Federal Supervision.

DENVER, July 28.—Commercial and industrial organizations of the United States are overwhelmingly in favor of private ownership and operation of railroads under Governmental supervision, according to an announcement here to-day of the result of a referendum vote taken by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

All but one of ten recommendations for remedial legislation, drafted by the Railroad Committee of the Chamber, were approved by a two-thirds vote. More than 1,200 organizations voted.

The recommendations include: Adherence to the policy of corporate ownership and operation, with comprehensive regulation.

Return of roads to corporate operation as soon as remedial legislation can be enacted.

"Excessive Federal regulation of capital expenditures and security issues of railroads engaged in interstate commerce, with provision for notice and hearing for State authorities."

"Federal regulation in intra-State routes affecting interstate commerce."

"A statutory rule providing that rates in each traffic section shall yield an adequate return to a fair value of the property, as determined by public authority."
